Pharisee and the Tax Collector

Pharisees were not bad people. They were keen on doing good in their lives. A Pharisee does not lie, he does not steal, he does not do anything wrong. He is a hard working honest and God-fearing man. He prays four times a day, he gives 10% of his income to the temple. How much better can you get? Yet Jesus had reasons to say that the Pharisee was not justified before God. It was the tax collector, the commonly perceived sinner, who had won God's favour.

What went wrong with the Pharisee is that according to him there were only two perfect persons, himself and God. He knew it by comparison with the tax collector and the rest of the people! He is proud that no one else can match his righteousness and good works. Therefore the Pharisee is praising God. He is full of himself. Really there is no room in his heart for God. There is no time for him to acknowledge the goodness of anyone else, let alone the Tax Collector. That is where he lost God's favour

After realising the message of this story, none of us really want to be like the Pharisee. Yet we find pleasure in comparing ourselves with others so that we can find ourselves better than them. The criteria people use for their goodness is to compare themselves with others. We tend to think that if we are doing better than others, then we are righteous. This relativism, in fact is a subtle trap.

The Pharisee trumpeted his good works. He might have been trained to do so. From the tender age onwards we too are trained to trumpet our good deeds. People get annoyed if their good deeds are not acknowledged by others. Boosting self-image is very important in our society.

None of us wants to be Pharisaic. But how do we know whether we are pharisaic or simply expressing our contentment. The best test is to see how much credit we give to others for all the goodness that is happening. The more you can give credit to others rather than to yourself, the less Pharisaic you will be. But if 'self-importance' becomes the centre of all conversation, you are distancing yourselves from God. The more convinced you are that only yourself and God and no one else helped in bringing about the goodness in your life, the farther you are from God. Therefore be humble and confess your dependence on God to find favour with God. This was also the core message of the Parish Mission we just concluded.

Holy Mass at Berala: Monday-Friday:6.45AM; Tuesday 7PM Novena & Mass; Wednesday - Friday 9.15 AM Saturday 8 AM Lord's Day: Saturday 5 PM (Vigil), Sunday 10 AM. Holy Mass at Auburn South: Tuesday 9 AM (school term only); The Lord's Day Sunday 8 AM. Reconciliation at Berala: Saturday 9.30 AM

for the deceased

Candlelight Mass November is the month dedicated to pray specially for all souls. It was a suggestion from the Pastoral Council that we have a special Candlelight Mass for all souls towards the end of November. It will be held at 8 PM on Friday, 29 November at St Peter Chanel Church. On that night parishioners will be able to buy an electronic candle for their dearly departed and light it during the Mass. A special atmosphere will be created in the church for the Mass with controlled lighting and light music. All November Mass intentions for the deceased will be announced and prayed for during this Mass. If there are enough interested people, Fr Thomas is willing to do a similar Mass at St Joseph the Worker Church as well.

Christmas for the Lonely

Christmas is one of the major celebrations and most people look forward to Christmas. But there are also those who find it hard to get through the Christmas period. For some, poverty makes it hard to celebrate Christmas. The Church helps them with the gift of Christmas hampers. There are others who find Christmas a difficult time to go through - because of their loneliness. For various reasons they do not have anyone to celebrate Christmas with. For the sake of such lonely people, this year our parish is putting on a Christmas luncheon. That is the decision of the Pastoral Council. Arthur Doumit will be the co-ordinator for the Christmas Lunch. The Lunch will be held in the Jubilee (Parish) Hall on Christmas Day at noon. It is a day most people will be committed to Family Celebrations. Yet there may be people who can afford to help with Christmas Luncheon for the Lonely. Some families may like to come with their children to help so that their children may see how privileged and blessed they are. If anyone can help that day, Arthur Doumit, Pastoral Council Members, and Fr Thomas will be happy to hear from them.

Working Bee

There is some more tidying up to be done in and around St Peter Chanel Church. It includes trimming some trees in the car park, moving some of the stored things from the church to a better storage area and painting the seat in front of the church. Therefore a WORKING BEE is called for Saturday, 9 November from 10 AM - 12 Noon. Please come along and help as much as you can.

Charitable Works Fund (CWF) Pastoral Appeal.

The appeal will be held next weekend on 2 & 3 November. Your support is important in helping us fund the 6 agencies of the CWF. Through your donations, we are able to continue our Church's mission, which is to provide pastoral and charitable support to those most in need in our community – so please give generously. Thank you.

Crib in St Peter Chanel Church

November Masses

November is a month dedicated to pray specially for the departed souls. It is customary to offer Masses for dear departed souls of the relatives and friends during this period. To help with requests for Masses, envelopes marked NOVEMBER MASSES are made available in the foyer of the church. You may use them. The names for November Masses will be announced in a list during the Month of November and will be placed on the Altar at the Candlelight Mass on Friday, 29 November at 8 PM at St Peter Chanel Church.

Deep Into Faith

A series of talks on various Faith aspects are organised in the coming weeks. Following is a schedule of the Talks. Though it is not compulsory, it would help, if you indicate to the parish office if you are planning to attend these talks. It would help with organising the number of hand outs and catering arrangements.

These talks are held in the Jubilee Hall (Parish Hall) on Wednesday evenings. Each session will start with a meal at 7.00 PM, talk or presentation at 7.30 PM and conclude at 9.00 PM.

Now that the Hall is equipped with Audio Visual system, the presentation will be easier.

Parish Mission

The Parish has just finished a Mission Retreat. It was fitting to have such a spiritual renewal program in the very first year of the newly amalgamated Parish. The two priests – Fr Bony Abraham and Fr Ken Barker from the Missionaries of God's Love did a wonderful job. I thank all those who supported and worked towards making this happen, especially the Pastoral Council of the Parish.

Feasts of the Week

28 October - Sts Simon & Jude, apostles. Feast.

Today the Church celebrates the feast of Sts. Simon and Jude whose names occur together in the Canon of the Mass and are also celebrated on the same day. Possibly this is because they both preached the Gospel in Mesopotamia and Persia where it is said they had both been sent, but in actual fact we know nothing for certain about them beyond what is told us of their being called as Apostles in the New Testament. St. Jude is the author of a short Epistle which forms part of the New Testament.

Sts. Simon and Jude However meagre in details is the history of these glorious apostles, we learn from their brief legend how amply they contributed to this great work of generating sons of God. Without any repose, and even to the shedding of their blood, they "edified the body of Christ"; and the grateful

Church thus prays to our Lord today: "O God, through the work of the apostles you have spoken your Word of love, your Son, into our world's deafness. Open our ears to hear; open our hearts to heed; open our will to obey, that we may proclaim the good news with our lives."

St. Simon is represented in art with a saw, the instrument of his martyrdom. St. Jude's square points him out as an architect of the house of God. St. Paul called himself by this name; and St. Jude, by his Catholic Epistle, has also a special right to be reckoned among our Lord's principal workmen

1 November - All Saints. Solemnity.

The earliest certain observance of a feast in honor of all the saints is an early fourth-century commemoration of "all the martyrs." In the early seventh century, after successive waves of invaders plundered the catacombs, Pope Boniface IV gathered up some 28 wagonloads of bones and reinterred them beneath the Pantheon, a Roman temple dedicated to all the gods. The pope rededicated the shrine as a Christian church. According to Venerable Bede, the pope intended "that the memory of all the saints might in the future be honored in the place which had formerly been dedicated to the worship not of gods but of demons" (On the Calculation of Time).

But the rededication of the Pantheon, like the earlier commemoration of all the martyrs, occurred in May. Many Eastern Churches still honor all the saints in the spring, either during the Easter season or immediately after Pentecost.

How the Western Church came to celebrate this feast, now recognized as a solemnity, in November is a puzzle to historians. The Anglo-Saxon theologian Alcuin observed the feast on November 1 in 800, as did his friend Arno, Bishop of Salzburg. Rome finally adopted that date in the ninth century.

This feast, first honored martyrs. Later, when Christians were free to worship according to their conscience, the Church acknowledged other paths to sanctity. In the early centuries the only criterion was popular acclaim, even when the bishop's approval became the final step in placing a commemoration on the calendar. The first papal canonization occurred in 993; the lengthy process now required to prove extraordinary sanctity took form in the last 500 years. Today's feast honors the obscure as well as the famous—the saints each of us have known.

2 November – The commemoration of All the Faithful Departed. (All Souls' Day)

The Church has encouraged prayer for the dead from the earliest times as an act of Christian charity. "If we had no care for the dead," Augustine noted, "we would not be in the habit of praying for them." Yet pre-Christian rites for the deceased retained such a strong hold on the superstitious imagination that a liturgical commemoration was not observed until the early Middle Ages, when monastic communities began to mark an annual day of prayer for the departed members.

In the middle of the 11th century, St. Odilo, abbot of Cluny (France), decreed that all Cluniac monasteries offer special prayers and sing the Office for the Dead on November 2, the day after the feast of All Saints. The custom spread from Cluny and was finally adopted throughout the Roman Church.

The theological underpinning of the feast is the acknowledgment of human frailty. Since few people achieve perfection in this life but, rather, go to the grave still scarred with traces of sinfulness, some period of purification seems necessary before a soul comes face-to-face with God. The Council of Trent affirmed this purgatory state and insisted that the prayers of the living can speed the process of purification.

Superstition easily clung to the observance. Medieval popular belief held that the souls in purgatory could appear on this day in the form of witches, toads or will-o'-the-wisps. Graveside food offerings supposedly eased the rest of the dead.

Observances of a more religious nature have survived. These include public processions or private visits to cemeteries and decorating graves with flowers and lights. This feast is observed with great fervor in Mexico.

Whether or not one should pray for the dead is one of the great arguments which divide Christians. Appalled by the abuse of indulgences in the Church of his day, Martin Luther rejected the concept of purgatory. Yet prayer for a loved one is, for the believer, a way of erasing any distance, even death. In prayer we stand in God's presence in the company of someone we love, even if that person has gone before us into death.
